Thank god for unsolicited emails, about a month ago I received one about our website not being up to par persay or even outdated. I simply replied back I agree 100% & from there Saurabh Porwal from Gstar Infotech turned our website into something we can feel proud of.

Thanks to their knowledge & determination our website looks like it's finally in this century & the function is simple, so anyone can go to our site & find out exactly what our firm is about. We spoke on a day to day basis until the website was completed. They gave me several options to choose from & listened to what we were looking for.

Any changes after reviewing the first time they immediately made & kept checking on daily to make sure we were happy. I highly recommend anyone who is just starting out with a new website or anyone who is looking for a complete overhaul of their site GStar Infotech are the people to contact. They will get it done in a timely manner & reasonable price. The most I liked about Gstar Infotech is once the site was finished I am able to go in and make minor changes myself with not having any added costs throughout the year. They charged me a one time fee that we were able to make partial payments as the site progressed. Most IT companies will not give you that option.

If anyone needs to contact me directly for any additional information about working with GStar Infotech, I can be contacted at brendak@cgm-acoustics.com

Thank you for your time & patience & a great looking website.
